

were distributed at various points along the shore, from Ipswich Bay to Cohasset, Mass. In addition to these, 8,170,000 fry, obtained from eggs taken outside the state, were also planted in these waters, making the total fry planted in Massachusetts waters 35,040,000. "We also received from Maine and New Hampshire 3,881 egg lobsters, which yielded 54,521,000 eggs, from which were hatched 47,650,000 fry."

SUNK IN COLLISION.

Sch. Charles W. Parker Went Down in Boston Harbor.

ALL THE CREW WERE SAVED.

Craft Was Struck by Sch. Angielena of Boston.

Sch. Angielena of Boston, Capt. Joseph Lyle of this port, and sch. Charles W. Parker of Kennebunkport were in collision off Castle island, Boston harbor, this morning, the latter craft sinking in three minutes in six fathoms of water.

The Parker at the time was bound up the harbor with a fare of fresh fish, while the Angielena was bound out for the fishing grounds. The Parker is reported to have been struck a hard blow by the Angielena, cutting her down and making a big hole into which the water rushed, causing her to sink quickly. The crew were saved.

About a year ago, the Parker sank off Portsmouth in a storm and was raised and repaired.

She is 57.53 tons gross, 54.47 tons net, built in Salem in 1883, and is owned by H. W. Pinkham. She is insured through H. C. Follansbee & Co.'s agency, in this city and Mr. Hazen Follansbee went up this morning to see about raising her if possible.

The canning company will can sardines and other food fishes. The officers are: President, F. H. Leggett; vice president, F. P. McCall; treasurer, Theodore F. Whitmarsh; secretary, W. B. Dudley; general counsel, Edward S. Hosmer.

Halibut Sale.

The fare of sch. Massachusetts sold to the New England Fish Co. at 11 cts per pound for white and 8 cents for gray.

Proposed New Lobster Law.

A bill has been introduced in the Maine Legislature which if passed will impose a penalty on all who shall sell lobsters other than in the shell, and in this way it will be almost impossible to evade the law in regard to the size of the fish. At present it is quite a trick of some of the fishermen to catch short lobsters, boil them and take out the meat, and bring it to Portland to dispose of. With the meat out of the shell there is no way of telling whether the lobster was under size or not.

Fishing Facts and Fancies.

The north of Scotland herring fishery this winter, although interrupted according to advices of Feb. 6 by recently severe weather, had to that date resulted in a catch fully up to the average, while the cod fishery was very far behind.

During the month of January, fish to the value of 2389 pounds was landed in Shetland. The total value for January last year was 863 pounds, showing an increase for the month, of 1546 pounds. The increase was due to the increased catch of haddock at both Lerwick and Scalloway.

SAW NO ICE.

But Sch. Ralph L. Hall Had Rough Homeward Passage.

Has Fine Cargo of Fortune Bay Frozen Herring.

Sch. Ralph L. Hall, Capt. Frank Hall, arrived this forenoon from Fortune Bay, N. F., with a fine cargo of frozen herring. Capt. Hall reports a most severe season at Fortune Bay, N. F., and a rough passage home. He kept clear of the ice and came well to the southward of Sable Island, going 60 miles from it. He did not see any ice but spoke schs. Atalanta and Emma and Helen on Quero bank on the passage home.

The Hall put in to St. Pierre, Mig. and there found schs. Patriot and Margaret, both of this port, refitting, each having 3000 pounds of halibut.

The Hall has a full cargo and the herring are large and fine quality. She will probably go to New York to take out.
